Life & Style finds the cutest styles — inspired by what stars are wearing this week!

Cameron Diaz lightens her combo of a gray Brian Reyes bolero and Corpus skinny jeans with brilliant white $395 Sergio Rossi pumps.

Jet-setter Katie Holmes looks comfy but totally stylish in classic $525 Roger Vivier flats and a Bottega Veneta dress here in the South of France.

from LOST

"Apart from being a pretty girl with a hot bod, what makes Eve sexy is her willingness to play. I like a girl who's unafraid to get dirty and throw herself into the physical aspect of what we do. Eve's willing to be a little warrior, and I appreciate that. But she maintains her femininity. She's a tomboy, and that's sexy. Climbing out of those freaking cages and jumping down with no rope, no cashin'—she did it every single time, probably ten times. She got huge bruises. I'm protective of her because as our friendship has grown, I've seen that she does crazy s---. Stuff that a stuntperson should do. I'm like a straddling mother to her now. I'm like, 'Way! That's enough of that! Let someone else do it.'" —actor Josh Holloway

"THE MOMENT YOU MEET HIM, YOU'RE LIKE, 'THIS DUDE'S FAMOUS,' WHETHER A MILLION PEOPLE KNOW IT OR NO ONE KNOWS IT. THE FIRST TIME I MET HIM, WHEN I WAS 16, I WAS LIKE, 'THIS IS I WANT TO KNOW.' HE JUST HAS A MAGNETIC PERSONALITY. AND I THINK THERE'S SOMETHING KIND OF COOL ABOUT THE FRONTMAN OF OUR BAND BEING THE BASSIST THAT DOESN'T SING." — JOE T

These fellas, much more than any other band, have a real sense of humor. They're not just guys who can play instruments, they're guys who can play the whole damn game. They're the ones who can make you laugh and then make you cry. They're the ones who can make you love them and then make you hate them. They're the ones who can make you love them and then make you hate them. They're the ones who can make you love them and then make you hate them.
